- Same format we have been using
- Account for my comments
- Options 1 and 2:
 - I am more interested in seeing progress in the implementation, and research, so work on that and then update the paper to showcase the new stuff you have done.
 - Add placeholders for any remaining experiments that you plan to run
- Option 3:
 - Keep adding material and refining. I expect you to have a full rough draft finished.
 - If there is additional material that you plan to add (or figures, tables, etc) then add placeholders for them.
- (All options): Please mark new material that you want to highlight in blue
 - Look into using the xcolor package, consider making a newcommand macro
